ESTATE

IMAKO VINO is a family-owned estate of vineyards, winery and distillery located near the city of Stip, Povardarie (Vardar River Valley) wine region, in the Ovche Pole wine district. Founded in 2002 by Mr. Risto Ljubotenski driven by the desire to continue a family winemaking legacy and to contribute to the Macedonian wine industry development. Imako VINO has grown continually since it was founded and today is one of the country's leading wineries with more than 11.5 million liters of annual production. The winery combines modern winemaking technology with creativity and expertise producing premium wines. Imako VINO is export-focused, flexible and market-oriented. In the quest to express the tradition of making the local brandy "rakija" and to provide diversified portfolio of products, a new modern distillery with continuous two-column distillation was added.

REGION AND VINEYARDS

Our region and the Ovche Pole wine district have been selected for grape production and winemaking since the Late Antiquity and early Byzantium times. The region abounds very favourable climate conditions for quality grape production - 2293 sunny hours annually that effect grape ripeness, climate that unites continental and sub-Mediterranean stream influences and plenty of wind exposure to maintain vineyard freshness and prevent fungal diseases. Soil composure mixes alluvial, rendzinas and brown forest soils and geo-thermal underground water bodies are frequent to allow constant and favourable temperature conditions for grape growing.

The estate manages more then 650ha of vineyards from own vineyards as well as long-term cooperants. A digitalized vineyard cadastre is in function since 2008 providing a farm-to-glass traceability and quality control of the grapes. Recent investment was made by the acquisition of an additional 300ha of land plots planned for new vineyards aimed for premium wines.

DISTILLERY

In order to continue the tradition of making brandy, Imako invested in its own distillery with two continuous distillation columns.

Carefully selected grapes and a controlled distillation process resulted in the production of the finest 100% wine distillate. Maturation is in oak barrels in order to round off and balance the taste and shape the aromatic profile. Difference in maturation periods, as well as the types of oak barrels used to mature the brandies allow us to produce brandies with a unique style and aromatic characteristics.
